A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as a dangerous thing to treat a liver in this way because he is lagging in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with overwork. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs.

If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, poor breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, dependent, frequent headaches, pain or distress in stomach, gnawing or distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps nausea, or "rising" in the throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, no medicine will relieve you more promptly than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot bread and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to its use until you are vigorous and strong.

The "Discovery" is non-secret, non-alcoholic, is a glyceric extract of native medicinal roots with a full list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Its ingredients are endorsed and extolled by the most eminent medical writers of the age and are recommended to cure the diseases for which it is advertised. Don't accept a substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret medicine.

A Reliable CATARRH Remedy

Ely's Cream Balm is quickly absorbed. Gives Relief at Once. It cleanses, soothes, heals and protects the diseased membrane resulting from Catarrh and drives away a Cold in the Head quickly. It is the only remedy that stores the Senses of TASTE and SMELL. Full size 50 cts., at Drug-gists or by mail. In liquid form, 75 cents. Dr. E. J. Ely, 55 Warren Street, New York.

LEGAL NOTICES.

VIRGINIA.—In the Clerk's Office of the Corporation Court of the City of Alexandria, on the 30th day of December, 1909, William Demaine, Jr., surviving partner of the firm of William Demaine, Sr., and William Demaine, Jr., lately trading under the firm name of William Demaine and Son, who sues on behalf of himself and such other creditors of Sarah Fry (formerly Sarah Murray), deceased, as may be included in this suit and contribute to the expenses thereof, vs. Lucy Murray, in her own right, and also administratrix of the estate of Sarah Fry, deceased; Mary D. Murray, the unknown heirs of Alfred Murray, deceased; John W. Payne, George Payne, the infant son of Mary Payne, deceased; William Payne, Sr.; Frank Payne; John Payne, and Bessie Payne, his wife. In Chancery.

Memo. The object of this suit is to convey the creditors of Sarah Fry (formerly Sarah Murray), deceased, to examine and have passed upon by the court the account of administration of Lucy Murray, administratrix of the estate of Sarah Fry, deceased, and to obtain a decree of the court subjecting the real estate of said Sarah Fry, which is situated on the west side of Pitt street, between Pendleton and Oronoco streets, in the City of Alexandria, Virginia, to be for the payment of the debts due by said Sarah Fry and by her estate, and for general relief.

It appearing by an affidavit filed in this cause that the defendants Mary D. Murray, the unknown heirs of Alfred Murray, deceased; John W. Payne; George Payne, the infant son of Mary Payne, deceased; William Payne, Sr.; and John Payne and Bessie Payne, his wife, are nonresidents of this state.

It is Ordered: That said defendants appear here within fifteen days after due publication of this order, and do what is necessary to protect their interest in this suit, and that a copy of this order be forthwith inserted in the Alexandria Gazette, a newspaper published in the City of Alexandria, once a week for four successive weeks, and posted at the front door of the Court House of this city.

A HISTORIC JOURNAL.

It is now a hundred and twenty-five years since in the ancient city of Alexandria the "Gazette" was established. In 1784 the first number of the paper was published. When the oldest citizen now living in Charlottesville was born, the Alexandria Gazette had been in existence for more than forty-five years. It made its first appearance the year after the treaty of peace was signed which ended the Revolutionary war and established the independence of the colonies. It had been regularly issued for three years while the Articles of Confederation were still in force, and when the convention met in Philadelphia to adopt a constitution under which the "People of the United States" were to have "a more perfect union." When the first issue of the Gazette was published Napoleon was still at the military school of Brienne, and was to be twelve years before he should be placed in command of the army in Italy where his military genius burst with such appalling splendor upon the world.

When the Gazette was established "allow candles" were in vogue; and, indeed, the columns of the paper were often scanned by light from fireplaces in log houses.

For a hundred and ten years, that is since the beginning of the last century the Gazette has preserved complete files of the paper, in bound volumes. What a depository of important information do these volumes contain. Alexandria being within rifle-shot, as it were, of the national capital the Gazette has preserved continuously, in condensed form, the events that have taken place in congress and at the White House. "The Washington Letter," which is an invaluable feature of the paper, furnishes the very best and latest and most reliable synopsis of the doings and carryings-on at the capital of the country that is anywhere to be found. Consequently the files of the Gazette are constantly appealed to, to settle disputes or matters as to the past history of the country. Every precaution should be taken to preserve against accident or loss such a treasure house of valuable information. For the American historian it will serve the purpose which the British Museum did for Macaulay and other writers of English history. [Charlottesville Progress.]

REPORTED ELOPEMENT.

It is reported that Mildred, Countess Pasolini, an American, has eloped from her husband's house in Rome with a young Irishman named Coles.

The countess was Miss Mildred Montague, of Chantanooga, Tenn., where she was married to the heir of an ancient Bolognese family early in 1907. The story goes that Coles is a handsome fellow, educated at Eton, went to Rome for the hunting season, and being crippled by a fall in the hunting field, was carried to Count Pasolini's home. There he was carefully nursed and hospitably entertained until restored to health.

Rumor says that the countess, a beautiful woman, fond of admiration, was courted by Coles and returned his admiration. It is not known where they are.

Countess Pasolini is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Preston Montague of Chantanooga. Her father is a banker and manufacturer. She passed the Christmas holidays of 1908 with her parents.

Miss Carolyn Montague, sister of Countess Pasolini, was married to Count Nazario Rasponi, Count Pasolini's cousin, in Chantanooga, October 27 last.

A MESSAGE TO THE FARMERS.

A great deal of interest has been manifested, editorially and otherwise, throughout the south, in the coming tour of Dr. Seaman A. Knapp, of the Department of Agriculture, in January, and many inquiries have been received by him asking what topics he will discuss on this journey. Dr. Knapp has very kindly consented to furnish the press, and through the press the farmers, with the subjects of his addresses.

At Lynchburg, Virginia, where he will speak on January 10th at 11 a. m., his topic will be "The Farmers and the Commonwealth," in which he will set forth the marvelous resources and strategic position of Virginia, and what the farmers must do to realize on their natural assets; prosperity not a matter of accident, but the result of a wise policy persistently pursued. The same general method will be followed in the addresses in the several states, outlining in each such policies as are most important and applicable to the rural population.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Manrico Lustig, sometimes known as Maurice Lustig, was arraigned before Coroner Feinberg in New York yesterday afternoon, charged with the murder of his wife, Rhoda, and was held without bail until next Tuesday. Lustig's wife died October 28, 1909, not long after her life had been insured for $3,000, and it is the belief of the police that the cause of her death was not natural. Dr. Charles Phillips gave a certificate of death, stating the cause to have been spinal meningitis, but recently Dr. E. E. Smith, a pathologist, who examined the woman's stomach and brain after the body had been dissected, has reported to Assistant District Attorney Turnbull that he found traces of a rhychine and no evidence of spinal meningitis.

Lustig was wearing a metal badge with "detective" stamped on it when he was arrested yesterday morning in a boarding house, where he was living with a young woman known to the landlady as Mrs. Lustig.

FOUR CHILDREN BURN TO DEATH.

On New Year's night about 10 o'clock the dwelling of William Dyon, colored, in Oakley Hundred of, Milestown district, near Leonardtown, Md., was burned and four out of five children, who were in the house, were cremated. An 8-year-old girl was the only one who escaped, and she is seriously injured. The house was about 100 yards from another dwelling occupied by several people, but none of the neighbors saw the fire in time to give assistance. At the time of the catastrophe the mother of the children was attending an entertainment at the home of her uncle, and the father was at a store on the public road about 400 yards away. Witnesses say the house was only on fire about 15 minutes before it was entirely consumed.

Cocaine which dulls the nerves never yet cured nasal catarrh. The heavy feeling in the forehead, the stunted nose and the watery discharge from eyes and nose, along with all the other ills attending the disease, are put to rout by Ely's Cream Balm. Small and taste are restored, breathing is made normal. Until you try this remedy, you can form no idea of the good it will do you. It is applied directly to the nose spot. All druggists, 50c.
